

WILLIE WESTINGHOUSE AND HIS PAPA DO A CIRCUS STUNT—PAPA GETS INTO TROUBLE

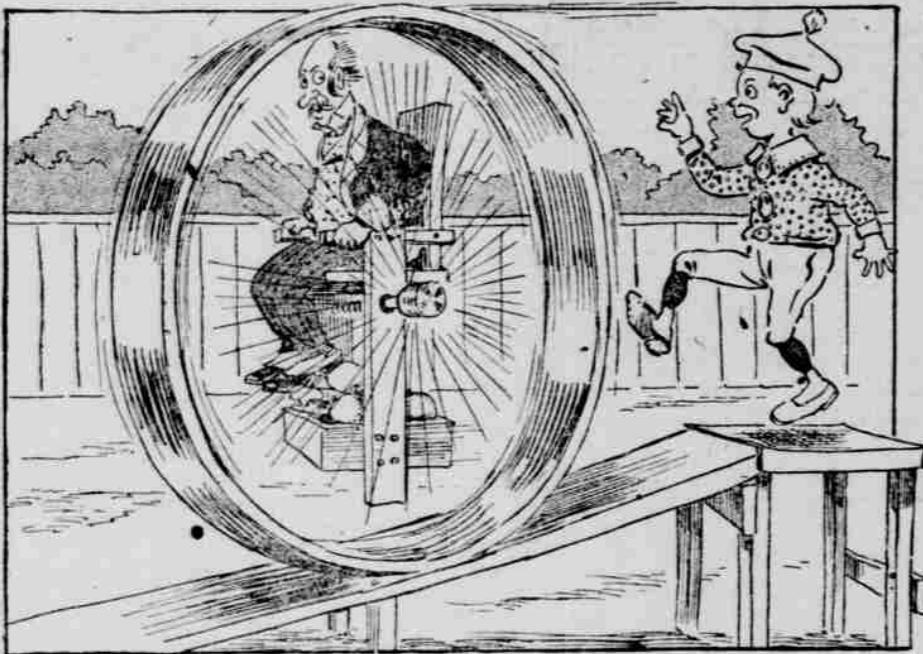

Dear Tommy—There was a man in the circus who rolled down an incline in a big wheel.

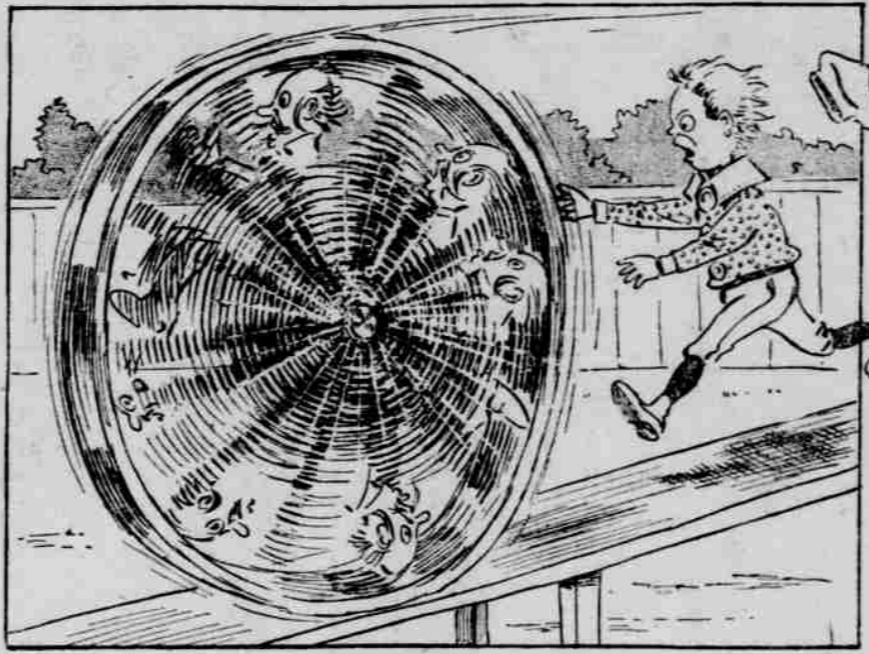

I built a wheel, only in mine you didn't turn upside down, like the circus man.

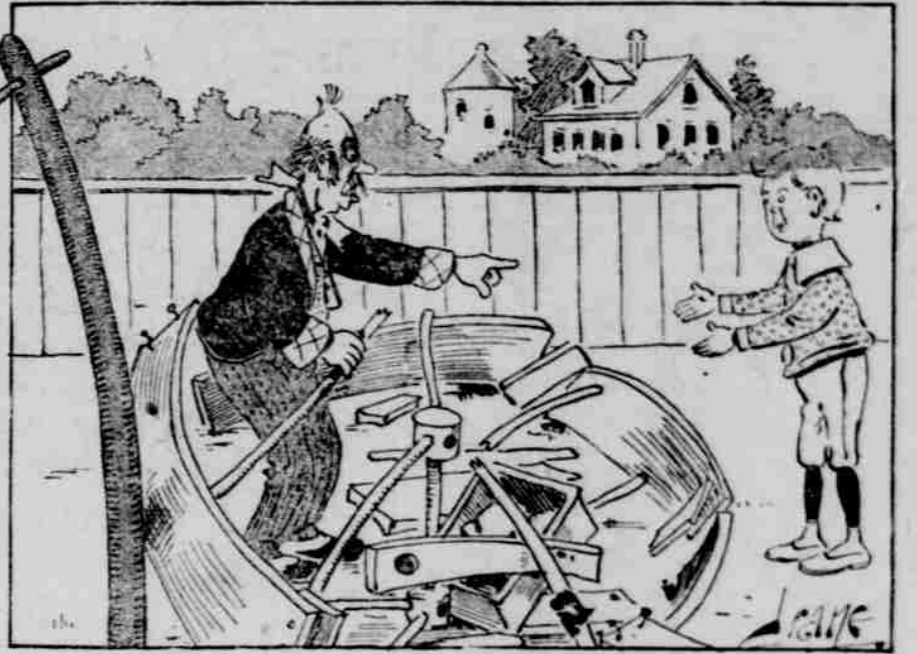

The weights at the bottom of the chain kept it right side up. It was great

Of course, when Papa tried it the wheel got a hot box—

Then the chain stuck and began to turn on the axle.

Papa didn't get hurt much when the wheel struck the clothes-post, but he was awful angry. Yours, Willie.

PRETENDING PERCY IS TOO GOOD TO PLAY HOOKEY—OH, YES, INDEED!

